PRACTISE VENUE : THE RED LION CREWKERNE

South Somerset Diary

WAY TO SATISFY THIRST FOR SOME 'EXERCISE'

A NEW group of morris dancers is being set up, in Crewkerne.

Behind the move are Beverly and Richard Ashe, both aged 25, who live at 60 Hermitage Street.

They took part in morris dancing while at Exeter University together for two years, and later for three years in London before moving to Crewkerne a year ago.

Richard, who teaches at Beaminster School, danted with the Great Western morris group, a men-only side of Exeter — as Beverly set up a new women's group there.

To date, a dozen people have shown an interest in joining the group, and there is no limit on numbers — as many as possible would be welcomed.

They plan to practise at the Red Lion Hotel, Crewkerne, on Tuesday evenings, where the new owners are anxious to get activities started. When a suggestion was made for morris dancing, Mr and Mrs Ashe were approached.

Beverly said that although there was a manual on morris dancing steps, the best way of learning was to pick it up from other people by dancing with them.

"Morris dancing helps you to get out and meet people, and is good exercise," she said. "And it also gives people a chance to do something in public when you might previously have thought you had no talent. You just enjoy yourself — and give other people enjoyment as well."

Beverly, a youth worker, won't be taking part herself for a week or two — she is expecting the couple's first child next month.

No name has been chosen for the new group yet. She said that decision, and suggestions for the colours and accoutrements to be worn, would be taken by all the members at their early meetings.

If anyone is interested in joining the group they can contact Mrs Ashe through the pub.

TWO NEW ACTIVITIES.... in the Crewkerne area. Richard Ashe (Crewkerne 75595) invites you to join in:-

Session.. First Sunday in each month, in the Bar, 8pm. All welcome to play or listen, - all instrumentalists especially welcome. Very informal.

Morris .. Called Dr. Turvilles Miracle Morris, it is at present a mixed 'side', - but will become separate sides when numbers increase. Wednesdays, in the Ballroom at 8pm.

specific reference to Chard and its peculiarities. Again, all are welcome. The talk will be held at the Museum (7.30pm).

Competition

Sadly, no-one got full marks for the competition in the last Newsletter. Perhaps the quality of reproduction was not satisfactory -apologies. For those of you on tenterhooks, here are the answers:

Question 1: What has changed to what? ... The photograph circa 1963 shows a view down Holyrood Street (looking South), taken from the same site as the other photograph. It shows a telegraph pole where the corner of International Stores now is, and the old part Bath Street -then a one way street. The answer required was that this No Entry has changed to an entry -the entry to International Stores.

Question 2: What are these men doing and when? ... This photograph, again taken circa 1963 and at the same time as the other photograph, shows a winter scene. The Christmas trees above Austin and Parham are clues. The location of Austins should have given a clue as regards date. Road resurfacing is not normally carried out during the winter, and the area being worked on is quite large -too big really for a repair hole. Noting the snow on the shop fronts it was obviously cold. So, the Editor was hoping for a wild guess. In fact, these men were attempting to clear a thick layer of ice from the road surface!

Both photographs are available for study in the Museum if required. A further competition will be organised in the next issue of the newsletter.

Bazaar

The Chard Museum Bazaar will be held this year at the Museum on June 18 at 10.00am. Entry to the Museum will be 10p per adult and 5p for children -this includes entry to the Museum itself.

As with previous years, if you have any items listed below (or others!) which you are willing to give, please leave them with Marjorie Richards at Windyridge, Helliars Road (Chard 5985) or bring them to the Museum at 9.00am on the day. Thankyou.

High time at Hinton on St George's Day

THE spirit of England refused to be dampened on Saturday, and nowhere was that spirit better demonstrated than at Hinton St George.

Despite the occasional torrential shower, the villagers pulled out all the stops to retell the much-loved story of St George and the dragon, appropriately on St George's Day.

The drama took the form of a colourful pageant, the narrators telling the story in rhyme.

There were many other attractions during the afternoon, including a display of marching by the Corps of Drums of the Royal Corps of Transport, who delayed their departure for Germany in order to appear at Hinton St George.

Further highlights were a Beautiful Baby show, a dog show, children's races, a performance by Dr Turberville's morris dancers from Crewkerne, and a display by Chard Majorettes.

Prizes were presented by Mrs Keith Johnson.

Paintings

In the village hall, pageant-goers could admire paintings by pupils of Hinton St George and Merriott schools, and pictures and flower arrangements by local residents. They could also enjoy refreshments.

More than 400 people attended the pageant, organised by Hinton St George Village Hall Committee, and raised £120 towards a hut in which sports equipment will be kept.

Mrs Patricia Elliott, the pageant's publicity officer, said: "We were extremely grateful for the support we received in the adverse weather conditions. Nothing had to be cancelled, everything took place as planned."

Saturday was the first time a pageant had been held in the village. "We would like it to become an annual event," added Mrs Elliott.

Those participating in the pageant were: John Segar, Caroline Pollard, Rhu Pollard, Helen Lodge, Juliana Lodge, Alan Male, S J Sutton, Susan Varndell, Mark Voss, Caroline Whittaker, Sally Robulaan, Nadine Miller, Angela Lodge, Jill Esp, Katherine Esp, Clare Jackson, Adam Sunseath, Nicholas Clark, Mark Morris, Samantha Miller, Lucy Clark, Jo Sharp.

Those behind the scenes were Hinton St George Art Group, Hinton St George Thursday Club, Mr and Mrs J G Thurston, Mr and Mrs E Clark, Mr D Broadbent, The Hinton Players, Mr P Bazley, Mrs D Porter, Crewkerne Pet Centre, Hinton Horticultural Society, Mr D Gillard and the Punky Night Committee, Mr B Cornelius and other vintage engine exhibitors, Crewkerne Fire Service, St John Ambulance.

Saturday's event concluded with a bingo session in the evening.

A re-enactment of St George and the Dragon was a main feature of Hinton St George village fair on Saturday. The picture shows St George (Caroline Pollard), dragon (Wing-Commander John Segar), Catherine (Helen Lodge) and wizard (Alan Male). The event was in aid of the village hall.

CHARD MUSEUM

Morris what?

The Editor sincerely apologises to Dr Turbervilles Morris for incorrectly defining them as 'Morris Men'. As you are aware, this newly formed group will be performing at the Special Open Evening of the Museum. It does contain women. Being a member of the said Morris, the Editor hopes that this embarrassing faux pas will not affect his ability to dance.

Omnibuses

Astute readers of the former edition of the Newsletter will note that the talk on Buses (May 31) by Mr Peter Snowden overlaps his exhibition of the same. Specifically, his talk will be on the development of the British Motor Bus, and the services offered from the origin at the turn of the century to the present day.

FRIENDS OF CHARD MUSEUM

MAY
1983

Editorial

The views of Chard when descending Windwhistle or Snowden Hills are quite memorable. This bustling town, situated on the col between the Axe and Isle river valleys with Guildhall and roadside streams, is striking: it creates a pleasing impression on the eye.

The Friends of Chard Museum, the Museum Council, and others appreciate this general statement and attempt to preserve small contributions to the general vista - the Reverend John Gunn memorial and milestones are just two examples. Indeed, the commendable attitude of pupils from Holyrood School in cleaning up litter from some public areas in Chard is another indication that the feeling of 'value', 'quality' or 'appearance' is important to the town as a whole.

Just recently, however, the jostling scene of Chard has been changed. The appearance of yellow no-waiting lines down the main street has completely jarred the memories of Chard when descending Snowden Hill. Such is progress.

Of course, it would be invidious for the Newsletter to comment on the rights and wrongs of such a move: it was conducted, over time, following the usual democratic procedures. But, when recognising that such action markedly affects the visual standard of the town, we are surely justified in commenting upon the quality of the work done.

What, therefore, do people think when noticing that many of the restriction signs are loose and are not true or square; that the positions of many of these signs were prior marked with yellow aerosol spray paint (which has not been removed or covered); and, even more shamefully, that two such signs have been inserted on the old church hamstone wall in Fore Street - on the coping stones with BENT masonry nails! There are other examples. Does it really matter?

~~Let the Newsletter be accused of being too pedantic.~~ The Editor has studied some of the restriction signs in the County Town of Somerset (Taunton), and of our District Council Town (Yeovil). Neither town appears to have suffered the same degree of abuse; and, further, their signs do not appear to have spare bolt-holes in them either.

The Editor's elder son (aged four years) has recently asked why telegraph poles have yellow paint on them. Thus, the Editor wonders what concerned parents and others will think when hearing on the one hand about the disgrace of graffiti and vandalism, and seeing, on the other, an attempt by the local authority to detail waiting restrictions in a manner which appears to show a minimum amount of thought, care, and regard for the 'value', 'quality', and 'appearance' which we and others hold so dear.

Thanks

The grateful thanks of the Museum Council is extended to the Friends of Chard Museum for their kind donation of monies for the extension to the alarm system of the Museum. This was completed at substantial cost, but it is reassuring that the whole of the main premises is now fully protected. Thankyou.

The AGM

The Annual General Meeting of Chard Museum was held on March 22 last. It is pleasing to report that 40 Council Members and Friends attended this enjoyable evening in the Town Hall. We were pleased to welcome Mr Frope of Gribble, Booth and Taylor (Chard) and his £200.00 cheque. Thankyou GBT. At the close of the AGM Mr Roger Carter gave an excellent illustrated talk on historical work in the local area. We thank you for your lecture.

Evening Visits

The Museum Council has approved the evening opening of the Museum as outlined in the last Newsletter. It has now been decided that organised groups can visit the Museum during the evening at the charge of a voluntary donation to the Museum funds. This major change in Museum policy should be welcomed.

If, therefore, any Friend belongs to a Group which may be interested in taking advantage of this then please contact the Editor on Chard 5767.

Reference will be made not only to technological developments and Government Regulations, but also to the changes in organisation of operators and manufacturers. The talk will be held in the Museum at 7.30pm. All are welcome, including any members of model clubs throughout the area.

MORRIS DANCERS CHOOSE FAMOUS NAME

THE opening of the new season at Chard Museum last week took a traditional form, with a jingle of bells, the thud of wood on wood, and the jaunty music — of the morris dancers.

It was the first public appointment for Dr Turberville's Morris, the morris side formed last year (pre-

And they have a busy time ahead in their first summer season with two or three bookings a month, through to the end of September, with highlights an appearance at the Yesterday Farming exhibition at the Bath and West showground on 4th September, and a weekend in Exeter in July with other morris sides.

They have about a dozen members in the side at the moment, with people from Crewkerne, Chard, Ilminster, Somerton and Hatch Beauchamp taking part, although they would welcome more members. They

League of Friends of CREWKERNE HOSPITAL

NEWSLETTER

The League of Friends was formed in 1948 to i) support the work of the Crewkerne Hospital by means of a voluntary service; ii) to provide facilities etc. not supplied by the Health Service as required by the Hospital; iii) to recruit and assist in the recruitment of voluntary workers in and for the Hospital; iv) to provide a link between the Crewkerne Hospital and the community which it serves.

There is a Committee, elected from members to represent the people of the town and surrounding villages, which meets every two months and whose aim is to ensure that the Hospital remains a viable unit.

Any person who wishes to support the Hospital can become a member of the League and a subscription of not less than 25p per annum is payable in October each year.

There will be a Subscription Table at the Fete in September, where subscriptions can be paid or renewed.

The Annual General Meeting of the League will be held on Wednesday 26th October at 7.30pm in the Day Room in the Hospital. All are welcome.

The League of Friends has provided many items for the Hospital in the past, one recent project being the alterations to and equipping of the new Physiotherapy Unit opposite the Hospital. The following items have also been provided recently:-

New bedside lockers and Curtains for the male ward.

9 adjustable height beds.

Radiography Processor

Infra-red Lamp

Multiphon MKII Ultrasonic therapy apparatus.

Two building operations are due to take place this year. One is to alter the bathroom in the upstairs flat to provide staff changing facilities and shower. The money raised at the Fete last year went towards this project. The money raised at this year's Fete will be put towards the second scheme which is to improve the toilet/bathroom area for the upstairs wards, which is required because of the increased number of patients being cared for at Crewkerne since operating was transferred to Yeovil.

One service which the League does provide for the Hospital is a trolley from which tea and coffee are served to visitors. There is a small band of volunteers who operate this trolley for a couple of hours during the afternoon, and anybody interested (whether a member of the League or not) should contact Matron.
